

Even advisors can get bad business advice

By Ingrid Case

Published March 14 2017, 3:19pm EDT

More in Practice management, Client communications, Employee communications, Client strategies, Client relations

Print

Email

Share

5 of 10

Too ethnic?

People have told Kashif Ahmed, founder and president of American Private Wealth in Woburn, Massachusetts, that his ethnicity prevents him from succeeding as a financial planner.

"I'd say I've done quite well," says Ahmed, who adds that he's not from the Middle East.

View List